

Personal Injury Group: Trucking Accidents

Trucking accident lawsuits require special handling. They cannot be handled in the same manner as a simple motor vehicle accident. They are more complicated, can involve multiple defendants, multiple layers of insurance coverage, and often the defendants are large corporations located outside of the state or even the country.

At Levene Gouldin & Thompson, LLP, we have an understanding of the specialized federal and state regulations implicated in a trucking accident. We have a working knowledge of the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Regulations, which can be crucial to winning a case. Additionally, many commercial trucks are now equipped with specialized computers that can provide critical information about the truck moments before the accident. We have the expertise to obtain this hidden computerized information so that we can ascertain the speed of the truck, the braking data, the number of rest stops taken by the driver, and various other pieces of information often necessary to present a clear case of liability against the defendants.

At Levene Gouldin & Thompson, LLP, we have the knowledge and expertise to aggressively pursue your claim. Our attorneys have significant experience in the courtroom pursuing recoveries on behalf of injured people. We will work to negotiate a fair settlement for your losses and, if necessary, aggressively pursue litigation on your behalf.
